Day 9: Shark Cage Diving

Early Breakfast Meet your guide and transfer to Gansbaai for your Shark Cage Diving (weather permitting)

Time to be advised as Shark Cage Diving is dependent on the weather. Please liaise with your guide.

Early transfer to White Shark Projects in Kleinbaai. Enjoy a delicious continental breakfast and discuss current sightings, indemnities, wet suits and equipment before heading off to board the custom built 36 ft, 4 tonne white shark dive catamaran – ‘Shark Team’. Meet one of the intrepid skippers, a qualified paramedic, a Dive Master and the friendly crew and enjoy a short talk on shark anatomy and behaviour. You will hear how White Shark Projects works with the sharks in the area and how you will spend the next couple of hours diving and viewing these wondrous predators in their natural habitat.

You are fully briefed on all procedures and the action begins as our crew ‘chums’ the cruise area and you wait with bated breath for your initial glimpse of the first shark fin. Sharks are usually wary at first and it is necessary to wait a while for them to settle before lowering the dive cage. The first guests enter the cage (takes 4 – 5 people) and spend about 20 minutes face to face with the sharks! Enjoy topside viewing during your wait as shark activity is often close to the surface. In fact Great Whites are also known for their ‘spy hopping’ – breaching right out of the water in pursuit of prey! Topside viewing can yield a lot of those action shots!

- All necessary diving and safety equipment is provided for you to enjoy your cage diving experience in South Africa in comfort and security. Remember to take suntan lotion, cap and sunglasses, a warm jacket and of course, a swimming suit and towel. If you know you are prone to motion sickness or even if you are unsure if you are, it is advisable to take medication before departing so as not to spoil your adventure! And don't forget your camera!

- *Experience the thrill of freefall without the effort of learning all the theory. On a tandem jump, you are strapped to a Tandem Instructor with a special harness that's attached to a specially designed parachute large enough to support both of you. After only 15 minutes of ground briefing you will enjoy a spectacular 20 minute aircraft ride. Then it's action time!
